

SEMINAR FOR PH.D.-APPLICANTS IN PHILOSOPHY OR HISTORY OF IDEAS

Seminar on project descriptions for ph.d.-applications in philosophy or history of ideas

Tuesday 3.9. at 12.15 – 14,
room 616, Building 1467,
Nobelparken

If you're a promising MA (KA)-student / -candidate with (reasonably) good grades and an interesting idea for a ph.d.-project, yet feel you could use some tips and advice to develop your idea into a convincing and clear project description, then this seminar is for you!

The seminar will address questions about how to structure your project description as well as its main sections, such as main idea, background and motivation, research questions, method and theory etc.

NB!! Notice that this seminar is in addition to, and does not replace, the info-meeting for all Culture and Society (IKS) ph.d.-applicants (at 9.15 the same day). This seminar will be about the project description only, and will not answer questions about formalities related to the application and ph.d.program. For that, you will need to attend the info meeting.

Language:
English if needed, otherwise Danish / Scandinavian
