

WOMEN'S ENFRANCHISEMENT 1915-2015

British and Danish Cases

In the centennial year for Danish female suffrage, the film Suffragette has inspired to a small research seminar addressing the suffrage movement in Britain and Denmark, and the two very different paths to gain this political right for women. Invited speaker at the seminar is Professor Krista Cowman from University of Lincoln, specialist in the British suffrage movement and historical advisor behind the film.

Wednesday, 2nd of December, 9.00am to 11.00am in room 516, Building 1461

Program

9.00am to 9.30 am: Krista Cowman: The British Suffrage Movement and Militancy

9.30am to 9.45am: Nina Koefoed: Female suffrage without fight. The debate in Parliament, 1886-1915

9.45am to 10.00am: Break

10.00am to 10.15am: Christina Fiig. Politics of Internationalism. Danish Women's Movements Participating in the Building of International Women's Organizations (1888-1919)

10.15am to 11.00am: Discussion