

Imagining Gender Futures in Uganda IMAGENU Project

Research Workshop 21-24 January 2020

Institute of Peace and Strategic Studies
Gulu University

In partnership with Aarhus University and Copenhagen University

This workshop is the second annual workshop organised by the IMAGENU Project, a four-year research collaboration bringing together researchers from Gulu University (Uganda), Aarhus University and Copenhagen University in Denmark. This project is supported by the Danish Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Danida Fellowship Centre in Denmark and aims to build research capacity in Universities between the global North and South.

The project's main focus lies on studying the changes in marriage patterns and interpersonal gender relations in northern and eastern Uganda and how these impact on child filiation, education, livelihoods and health.

The theme of this year's workshop is MARRIAGE and we meet to share preliminary findings, work on our common methodologies and find new inspirations on the theme.

The tentative program is as follows:
